URSINUS STUDENTS AND FACULTY TRAVEL TO SEE THE SESQUI-CENTENNIAL

Special Perk. Valley Train Conveys
Large Party to Philadelphia

URSINUS BOOTH VISITED

Sesqui Day was observed by Ursinus on Tuesday, October 26. A special Philadelphia and Reading train carried the students and a great number of residents from the nearby communities to within a very short distance of the great exposition. Seven hundred and fifty persons made the trip in eleven coaches of the special. The train arrived at the city at ten o'clock and thus the excursionists were given the best part of a day to view the wonderful exhibitions collected from all parts of the world.

Interesting and Educational

Everyone who attended reported a wonderful time. It seems hardly possible that a contrary report would be valid, because the vast and varied amount of most interesting articles and products would be sure to attract at least some attention. Although the main idea of the Centennial may be to observe the birth of our independence, it would seem after travelling through the different buildings, that underlying it all a greater spirit of international thought prevails. Anyone after being on the grounds for a few minutes could not help but realize that ties of friendship are being more closely bound together by the nations represented, and especially a closer and more friendly spirit to the United States.

A General Survey

One day is not ample time in which to derive full benefit from the world wide collections, but there are a few buildings of outstanding interest. The Education Building with its wonderful display from all countries shows the development of civilized man in a most realistic fashion through the various training periods. In a very short time one is able to determine what the remainder of the world is doing to improve the several methods

GIRLS LOSE HOCKEY GAME TO TEMPLE AGGREGATION

On Thursday afternoon the Ursinus hockey team met defeat at the hands of Temple, before an enthusiastic crowd in the season's first home game. Two goals in quick succession made by the Ursinus girls, gave a flying start to the game and aroused great expectations, but Temple's eleven came back strong and at the end of the first half the score stood 4-3.

Improved team work, with shorter passes, marked the Ursinus game an improvement over the former ones, but Temple's strong defense could not be pierced. In the second half Temple scored three times, making the score 7-3.

The rally was probably due to coaching received during half time. By this time Ursinus' opponents had realized that they were not up against a weak team that could easily be defeated. The high scorer on Temple's team was the left wing, Burrowes while Bowler for Ursinus scored two of the three tallies, the other being made by Riddell. Special mention should be made of the work of the Freshman members of the Ursinus team.

It is to be regretted that a large part of the audience did not stay to encourage the home team up to the end of the game. After the game, according to custom, tea was served to both teams at Shreiner under the auspices of the Women's Athletic Association.

MRS. OGDEN MEETS WOMEN VOTERS AT SHREINER TEA

On Wednesday last, the Women's Student Government Association sponsored a social function unique at Ursinus. A tea was held in Shreiner in honor of Mrs. John Ogden of Swarthmore. All women in the col- of voting age were invited to attend. Puzzling questions of registration were cleared up, and candidates for the coming election discussed. Mrs. Ogden, who is interested in the League of Women Voters, also explained the valuable functions of that body. The result of this social gathering was to increase interest in voting, which has heretofore seemed remote and unimportant to many college women. Mrs. Ogden's interesting message made a great appeal to all of the girls at the Tea.

YEARLINGS HOLD BANQUET AT RITZ CARLTON HOTEL ON MONDAY EVENING

Kidnapped President Greets Class
Upon Arrival in Phila.

NOVEL FAVORS GIVEN

The Freshmen made their first social venture as a class Monday evening, October 25, when they celebrated the annual "Frosh" banquet at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Philadelphia. In spite of the fact that the affair was an hour late in starting because of some Sophomore's knowledge that gasoline motors will not run on water, a most enjoyable time was had by everyone of the hundred or more "Freshies" who were present.

The guests of honor were Mr. Paul S. Krasley, Junior class president, and Miss Ruth Moyer, Junior class secretary. The chaperons were Prof. and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder and Prof. and Mrs. J. L. Boswell. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Mr. John Brooks, chairman, Miss Emma Leo, Miss Anne Murray, Mr. Wilmer Burns, and Mr. William McGarvey.

Delayed by Sophomores

The party was rather late in starting on account of a practical joke played by the Sophomores, but at about ten o'clock the three well-laden buses discharged their disgruntled but nevertheless thankful passengers in front of the Ritz. Here the class received its first pleasant surprise of the evening—its recently kidnapped president, Mr. Paul Cherin, came from the hotel to greet them.

Dinner was served immediately and everyone sat down to a delicious meal of chicken casserole served with browned butter. General delight was expressed when leather card cases were distributed as favors during the course of the dinner.

Donaldson Toastmaster

Mr. James Donaldson, as toastmaster for the evening introduced the various speakers very appropriately. First the class heard from its president, Mr. Cherin, who related his experiences from the time he was overcome by the Sophs in the boiler-room till he arrived at the Ritz Monday afternoon. He closed his short address with the remark that he was very glad to be able to be with his fellow class members at the banquet.

Mr. Paul Krasley, president of the Junior class, was then introduced and opened his speech by extending greetings to the Freshmen on behalf of its sister class. Mr. Krasley said that the present Freshman class was the beginning of a "Greater Ursinus." He told how much was expected of the class and hoped that they would "deliver." His talk concluded with some inspiring words of advice:

"If you can't be a highway, then

LYCEUM SEASON OPENS WITH PRESENTATION OF "AULD LANG SYNE"

Large Audiences Enjoys Review of Burns' Songs and Poems

REAPPEARANCE WELCOMED

The first number on the Lyceum program was presented on Wednesday evening, when the Scottish Musical Company appeared in "Auld Lang Syne," an evening with Robert Burns. The scene was laid in the room in which Burns was born in 1759, and the cast included some of the poet's favorite characters. They were made the instruments for the reading of Burns' poems, the singing of his songs, and the declaration of his principles and beliefs.

Characters

Mr. William Wilson took the part of Souter Johnny in a very humorous manner. He will be remembered from last year as one of the most likeable characters. Miss Margaret Alexander played the part of the sweet, young maid, Mary Morison. Mr. Edward McHugh portrayed Tam O'Shanter, making it a most delightful and clever part. Other characters were Miss Edith Mac Gregor as Margaret Anderson, Mr. Walter Munro as Andrew Aiken, and Mr. John E. Daniels, Jr., as Duncan Gray. Miss Florence Reed assisted at the piano.

Songs

A pleasing variety of Burns' songs were sung during the performance. Among the special favorites were "A Highland Lad My Love Was Born," "My Heart's in the Highlands," "John Anderson, My Jo," "A Man's a Man for a' That," and the old familiar "Auld Lang Syne." These simple songs always touch the heart and arouse a sympathetic feeling. The way in which these talented actors and actresses interpreted Burns bespoke an intimate knowledge of Scotch life and traditions. Their pleasing voices lent much to the appreciation of the songs.

The event marked the opening of what promises to be a most successful Lyceum season.

"PALS FIRST" PRESENTED AT LANSDALE HIGH SCHOOL

Before a comparatively large audience, gathered in Music Hall Theatre, Lansdale, members of the Senior class once more presented, successfully, the famous comedy, "Pals First." None of the dramatic art and unusual amateur ability which stood out so predominantly last year, when it was presented in Bomberger Hall, seemed to be lost. In fact, it was presented with a renewed vigor and energy which seemed to be intensified by the hearty reception and intense appreciation on the part of the audience.

Unusual Cooperation

The production was sponsored there by the Junior Class of Lansdale High School. As a body they displayed unusual cooperation in rendering assistance for the players and in the sale of tickets. Everyone connected with the play wishes to make this public acknowledgment of their appreciation for all kindnesses shown.

This was the first appearance of the play this season in outside circles.

The cast:

Dominie Owen R. Jones
Aunt Caroline Helen Ort
Uncle Alex George Erb
Jean Grace Kauffman
Aunt Alicia Ruth Eppheimer
Judge Logan Earl Skinner
Squirrel George Koch
Dr. Chilton Leonard Miller
Gordon R. Nesbit Straley

TITLE PAGE OF 1927 RUBY ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

One of the reporters who dropped into the office of the Ruby editor the other day happened to spy some of the completed work for the book. He saw the title page of the volume being advertised in a small magazine called Plate Progress. Some one got the magazine and showed it to the editor, who was very much surprised, because he said that he himself had not seen the completed work before. It is hardly possible here to explain the exquisite beauty of the page but one can realize that it must be a masterpiece or it would not have appeared in a popular national magazine. Since this is the kind of work that is going to make up the 1927 Ruby no one can be disappointed in its outcome as a high class annual.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF URSINUS DEBATE LEAGUE TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Prof. Witmer Heads Organization of Prominent High Schools

SEVENTH CONFERENCE

The Ursinus College Interscholastic Debating League is very busy these days, according to Prof. Witmer, the President of the League. A committee met at the College last Saturday to make recommendations for revising the Constitution and By-laws, and next Saturday there will be a full Conference here of all the member schools. This will be the seventh Annual Conference.

The League has steadily grown until it now numbers about twenty first class high schools in half a dozen counties of southeastern Pennsylvania. It includes such large high schools as Allentown, Reading Boys' High, Norristown and Easton. Last year three banners were awarded, one to Allentown, one to Spring City, and one to Collegeville. The larger schools put dual teams into the field.

Conference on Saturday

The Conference next Saturday, which meets in Bomberger Hall at 10.30, should number about fifty delegates. It will choose a question for the coming season and attempt to make some important changes in the By-laws. Chief of these will be a recommendation to divide the member schools into groups of four with a trophy for the winner in each—either a banner or a cup. The aim is to make the organization more flexible and give it a wider appeal. The League has done much to foster debating in Pennsylvania high schools, and incidentally has brought Ursinus to the attention of many promising students.

Many Teams Active

Teams participating in debate in the League are composed of three speakers and an alternate, and anyone is eligible who is an undergraduate carrying eighteen or more periods of work in a regular high school, with passing grades in all subjects. The coaching is limited to instruction in the art of debating, help in collecting material, correction of English, and drill in delivery.

Only one question is used for all debates except that a new question must be used at the final contest which is held in Bomberger Hall. The first question is selected at the annual conference, and the final question is selected by the schools competing for the banner, with the help of the College committee. This committee is composed of the President of the League, and two college faculty members appointed by him. The first round of debates is held in the last week in February; succeeding rounds take place at two week inter-

URSINUS VARSITY ELEVEN DEFEATED IN STRUGGLE AGAINST GETTYSBURG

Aerial Attack Responsible for Many Points Scored by Rivals

JEFFERS RUNS 40 YARDS

Last Saturday the Ursinus Bears traveled to Gettysburg, and in a hard fought battle against great odds lost to "Bill" Wood's battle-field gridiron machine, before 2000 spectators, on Memorial Field, by a score of 30 to 0.

The score is no indication of the battle royal that waged for one hour. Playing a team that outweighed them by fifteen pounds per man the Ursinus aggregation threatened to score several times. Schell made two attempts to kick placements but the oval flew wide of the mark.

The aerial attack launched by the Bears at the beginning of the second half was speedily broken up and they were forced to play on the defense. In the last quarter of the game a savage attack was made to score upon Gettysburg and the game ended with the ball in the possession of Ursinus as they were rapidly forcing their way to the Orange and Blue goal.

In the second quarter W. Moyer was injured and had to be taken from the game. S. Moyer and Benner also received injuries.

Schell played a beautiful defensive game for the invaders and intercepted a forward pass and on another occasion recovered the ball which a Gettysburg man dropped. Henkels, on the right wing played a stellar game, making several sensational tackles.

First Quarter

Bream kicked off to Henkels who received the ball on his own 30-yard line. Jeffers gains 2 yards through tackle. Two plays netted no gains and W. Moyer punted to Swab who ran ball back to midfield. A forward pass Jones to Bream was grounded. Brandiff punted out of bounds on the Ursinus 8 yard line. W. Moyer returned the ball to center field; Drawbaugh running the punt back 10 yards After two unsuccessful line plunges, a

URSINUS FRESHMEN TRIUMPH OVER P. I. D. BY 7-0 SCORE

The Ursinus Freshmen team won a hard-fought game from the Pennsylvania Institute for the Deaf by the score of 7-0 on the latter's field in Mount Airy last Saturday. P. I. D. has won every game on its schedule thus far in this season, five in number, until our little Bears defeated them on Saturday. The game opened with a snap and crash. P. I. D. kicked off to the Red and Black and Cherin ran the ball into the Mute's territory. The Ursinus backs then ran through for several first downs but P. I. D. held on their own 20-yard line. After P. I. D. could not penetrate the Ursinus line they kicked and Ursinus then in possession of the ball marched down the field with a series of end runs and off tackle thrusts to the five yard line. Haas then dove through the Mutes' line for a touchdown. Cherin kicked the extra point.

From then on until the end of the game the ball see-sawed back and forth between the two teams. Near the end of the game P. I. D. made a desperate effort to score but without success. With 2 minutes to play they had the ball on the Bears' 15 yard line but could not take it across. The mutes played a wonderful game showing fight and dash to the end of the game.

The little Bears played a fine game and deserve much credit for their showing. The next game on the schedule is with the Perkiomen School at

Editorial Comment

ALUMNI ATTENTION!

Each year marks the departure of a larger class of graduates from Ursinus, some probably never to return again and the others never as a whole group. With this thought in mind the "Weekly" is attempting to gather and print all the Alumni news possible.

The Alumni section is being enlarged and although our space is limited we are attempting to give you as much publicity as can be obtained for this purpose.

The response made by the Alumni recently is indeed gratifying and we urge you to further co-operate with us. You undoubtedly are thinking of the old friends whom you have not seen for years, you are wondering where they are and what they are doing. It is impossible to interview personally the friends of long ago—to have a good old chat and familiar handshake. The next thing to seeing them, therefore, is to hear from them. Let the Weekly be the "Broadcasting Station" whereby news can be exchanged between friends. If all the readers of the Weekly were to live here they certainly would conclude that there is a real need for Alumni news to get on the "air" and stay there.

Show your approval of the plan by an immediate response to the Alumni Editor.

Any effort on your part toward helping this movement will be greatly appreciated and all news will be gladly accepted. Help to make the Alumni section the best ever.

RELIGIOUS ATTITUDE OF COLLEGE STUDENTS

If pastors in the home churches of many college students could visit the services in the churches of college towns, they would undoubtedly be quite surprised at the small attendance. Some might anticipate this, but what reason can be given for it? Do students come from homes in which religion is considered very lightly? If not, do they lose their religion as they acquire knowledge in other fields? What does the college do to foster an interest in the spiritual development of its student body? These and many other related questions might well be considered by every one of us.

Most of us have been brought up in homes where the religious influence is of prime importance. Indeed, very few of our number have missed the training of the Sunday School and the teaching of the church. The average person in college brings with him religious convictions of no meager consequence. It is true that during the course of our study we may question them, but it is very unwise to abandon them without deliberation and without the substitution of something we think may take the place.

We must admit that in some cases young people attend Bible school merely in compliance with the request or admonition of anxious parents, and upon leaving home for a four years' sojourn in college, they deviate from this worth while routine of earlier days. In other cases we find students who are ashamed to acknowledge their Lord, or become indifferent to the responsibility in the field of religion.

It is rational to suppose that these same college students will later awaken to their position and accept Christ as He is presented, but why should this period of partial or absolute dormancy intervene in the lives of His children? Why should the best and most profitable years be spent without Him?

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. in college give students an opportunity to participate in religious activity; the local churches invite students to attend services; and the Bible school has special accommodations for college people. These are by no means all our opportunities for spiritual uplift. What greater chance can we ask?

ALUMNI NOTES

Please send news about yourself and other alumni to the Alumni Editor. All news greatly appreciated.

Lloyd O. Yost, '17 and Mildred E. Yost, '20, are operating a Flying Field at Conyngham, Pa. They are just closing their tenth season there, and expect to open the Pinehurst, N. C. season about November 15th. In September, Mr. Yost placed third in the second O. X 5 Elimination Race at the Sesqui Centennial, using a strictly stock airplane which he had employed previously for passenger work.

Mr. Wallace C. Savage, '19, is the head of the History Department in Upper Darby High School, which has 1400 pupils. He received an A. M. from the U. of P. last June in History. Recently, he headed a campaign for the sale of 1100 Athletic Tickets and sold 1110.

The Rev. Walter H. Diehl, '18, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed Church of Mahanoy City, has undergone an operation for appendicitis in the Shenandoah Hospital.

Mrs. Emily Phillips Davis, '19 is serving as the director of the Community Training School for Christian Workers at Lansford, Pa.

The Rev. D. F. Singley, '15, and the Rev. R. E. Wilhelm, '18, were two of the speakers at a service observing the hundredth anniversary of the Home Mission Board of the Reformed Church in the United States. The service was held at Leighton, Pa., on Sunday evening, October 24th.

A son, Harold R., was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. Rudolph Kulp of Pottstown, on September 10, 1926. Mrs. Kulp is the former Mary J. Hershberger, '22.

Rev. Daniel Franklin, '22 died at his residence on Eighth avenue, Collegeville on last Wednesday, October 27, 1926. He is also a graduate of the Methodist Theological Seminary. Rev. Franklin preached in the Evansburg Methodist Church while attending college. He was granted a year's leave of absence by the Methodist church because of his failing health.

Y. W. C. A. ENTERTAINS AT TEA ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

On Saturday afternoon the Y. W. room was the scene of a very delightful Japanese Tea Party. A cheerful and colorful Oriental setting formed a perfect background for the event, which was made the more realistic by real Japanese rice cakes served with the tea. The party, which is one of the most enjoyable of the girls' social functions at Ursinus, is an annual event, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. Its purpose is the gathering of all sorts of toys to send across the Pacific for big moments in little lives on Christmas Day in China. Each girl brought one toy and then groups of co-eds worked throughout the tea with scissors and glue making attractive multicolored scrap-books to accompany the toys. This year the box will be packed and sent by Miss Alice Feters, '28, who was hostess at tea, to Miss Ruth Kraft, a graduate of Ursinus who is teaching in a Chinese Mission School.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. PAUL HAS EXCELLENT MEETING

A new interest was manifested in the Brotherhood of St. Paul when a large number attended the meeting on Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

During the business session Dr. Tower was elected as Faculty Advisor. The program a most interesting one, was opened by Howard Koons '28, who gave a most informative paper on Platinus. The chief theme of the treatise was the mysticism of the age in which he lived. The second number was an informal talk on "The New Christianity," by Clarence Ergood, '30. The paper aroused quite a discussion in which many participated. Many are looking forward to the coming meetings with a great deal of enthusiasm.

Gaff From the Grizzly

The Women's Debating Club welcomes the head of the Political Science department as its most active member.

The big, brave, desperate boys who have nerve enough to throw bottles and glass in Dog House should be given the Silver Cup offered by the Omwake Cooperation Association.

This column last week stated that Tuesday would probably be our last chance to ride on the Perkiomen division of the Reading Railway. We would now like to add that we hope it was.

The booths at the Sesqui most frequented by Ursinus students seemed to be those which dispensed samples of nourishment.

The familiar scenes depicted in the Ursinus booth are said to have made many of the students homesick.

We suspect that a great many more students will turn out to be over twenty-one than one would have guessed.

In spite of their apparent belief in their own ability, the Frosh might have selected a better place to park the busses before starting on Monday night.

We wish to extend our sincere sympathy to the High Schools that are compelled to struggle along this year without the talent that is represented in our Freshman class.

Since the Ursinus co-eds have been so thoroughly instructed in the fine art of voting, they had better pass the good word along to the male students who seem to still be in outer darkness.

We are sure Dr. Jordan is very grateful to the student in Bible 3 who so kindly furnished him with last year's notes. However, we fear that the class does not share Dr. Jordan's feeling of gratitude.

They say that the Freshman girls' rooms are gradually being restored to their former pristine freshness.

W. S. G. A. HEARS MRS. OGDEN SPEAK ON VOTING

On Wednesday evening, October 27, Mrs. John Odgen, chairman of the Delaware County League of Women Voters, spoke to the W. S. G. A. about the value of politics in personal and home life. Mrs. Odgen is a graduate of Swarthmore and displayed a sympathetic attitude toward the college girl's interest in politics. In a straightforward and simple manner she explained the duty of women to avail themselves of their privilege of voting and emphasized the importance of knowing how to vote correctly.

Mrs. Odgen showed the great responsibility placed upon woman to uphold, by wise use of the franchise, the ideals which are attributed to and expected of her. She discussed the great work of the League of Women Voters, probably the best organized body of its kind in the United States, which is trying to educate women in politics, because no woman today can afford to ignore situations which bear directly on the happiness of the home and individual. She cited striking examples of how "gang" rule, political indifference, and political dishonesty have corrupted our political organizations. Her appeal to the W. S. G. A. was to create interest in political education and to obtain a right attitude toward politics, in order to make it more nearly the ideal organization every true citizen wants it to be.

The rest of the meeting was devoted to questions and discussion. At the request of the girls, Mrs. Odgen willingly explained the situation confronting the voters at the coming election.

Freshman Girls, reserve Wednesday evening, November 10th, for the Y. W. Candle Light Service. Ursinus has been maintaining a 100 per cent membership for several years. This is the meeting when we want you to keep up our standard and make one of your own by joining the Y. W. en masse. We're counting on you, Freshmen!

The Tower Window

AN examination of the registration slips of Ursinus students reveals that out of 386 persons registered, all but four have declared affiliation with some religious denomination. The great majority, 337 to be exact, have recorded themselves as communicant members. Of the rest, nine failed to state whether or not they are communicant.

Of the total enrollment, 327 are connected with half a dozen denominations, Reformed, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Baptist. Fifty-five are distributed among twelve other religious bodies.

In the faculty of twenty-six members, we find nine Reformed, seven Presbyterian, four Baptist, three Episcopalian, two Lutheran and one of the Church of the Disciples. Certainly no one can say that Ursinus is narrow in its composition of religious beliefs. It is safe to predict, however, that if a careful examination were to be made into the religious positions of our twenty-six faculty members and our 386 students, there would be no such divergence of view as the many different denominations represented would seem to indicate. These names have come to stand more for organizations than for "faiths" as they once did. They are much like the divisions of a great army with separate field operations but a common objective, the only thing lacking being a staff of officers to guide and direct the whole and thus avoid waste and duplication of effort. Perhaps this will come some day.

From the figures given above, Ursinus College is solidly Christian as far as profession is concerned. We trust the forty who are not communicant members of the Church will become such. To declare affiliation with the Church and yet not to be active members is to occupy the "twilight zone" that Roosevelt used to warn us against. But profession is only one step in becoming a Christian. There are as many twilight Christians who have taken the formal steps as to membership in the Church as there are those who have come short of it.

To be a Christian is to be a true and devoted follower of the Christ. The index for this is found not in the outward formalities but in the inner realities of mind, heart and will. Noble thoughts, pure aspirations and good deeds are what make the true Christian.

We are glad that Ursinus is so unanimously Christian in profession. Now let us set to work together, with mutual sympathy and helpfulness, to be Christian in word and deed.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM CHANGED AT ROLLINS COLLEGE, FLA.

Student assent has been given to the proposal to do away with lectures at Rollins College, Florida. The innovation was proposed by President Hamilton Holt, former editor of The Independent, New York. Instead of coming to classes for lectures the students will attend to study. The usual 60 minute period will be lengthened to two hours. The students will study in classes under guidance of the professor and in constant consultation with him, "the purpose being to place academic life on a more practical basis by placing class attendance on a par with the hours and duties of a business office." A majority of the students were favorably impressed with the idea; some objections, however, were raised. The most serious point raised was the question of whether or not so radical a change in college procedure would affect the standing of Rollins in academic circles. Assurance was given by the faculty that these difficulties would be smoothed out as the plan operates.

SECOND ANNUAL CONGRESS OF STUDENT FEDERATION

With Professor Alexander Meiklejohn of the University of Wisconsin and President Henry Noble MacCracken of Vassar College, as speakers, the National Student Federation of America will discuss "The Student's Part in Education" at its Second Annual Congress to be held at the University of Michigan on December 2, 3, and 4.

Throughout the past year there has been heated discussion on educational problems such as Athletics, Compulsory Chapel, the Honor System, Elective and Required Courses, the Lecture System, etc. The Congress through the speakers and committee meetings will afford an opportunity for a thorough consideration and careful analysis of these questions. Professor Meiklejohn of Wisconsin, formerly President of Amherst College, is a brilliant speaker and a profound critic of our educational system. President MacCracken of Vassar College is one of the leaders in the movement for extending the students' share in shaping the curriculum. On the opening night of the conference these men will present divergent viewpoints for the consideration of the delegates.

The conference will be subdivided into ten committees dealing with the subjects of the Honor System and Student Government, Athletics, Fraternities, the Choice and Methods of Teachers, and the Nature of the Curriculum. Joseph Prendergast, President of the Senior Class and Senior Council at Princeton, and member of the Varsity Football team, with M. A. Cheek of Harvard, Captain of the 1925 Football Team and Marshall of his class, will lead the discussion upon Athletics. Frederick V. Field, Editor of the Harvard Crimson, will be one of the leaders on the group discussing the Choice and Methods of Teachers. Dorothy Mason, President of the Student Government Association of Wellesley, and Charles G. Gleaves, one of the outstanding men at the University of Virginia, will preside at the committee meetings concerning the Honor System and Student Government. Ben L. Bryant, ex-President of the Student Council of the University of Cincinnati and Margaretta Fleming, active in student government at Ohio State University, will lead the discussion concerning Fraternities. Douglas Orr, formerly of the University of Nebraska, and now of Swarthmore and Miss Marvin Breckenridge of Vassar, as a result of leadership in their respective colleges, are well qualified to lead the meetings on the Nature of the Curriculum.

By considering the various problems of different colleges throughout the country, the Federation will enable each delegate to obtain a clearer understanding of the difficulties confronting his own college. At last year's National Collegiate World Court Conference at Princeton, at which the Federation was started, 245 institutions were represented.

MAPLES SPONSORS PARTY IN FIELD CAGE SATURDAY

In an endeavor to have pleasure and at the same time to procure some much-needed funds for their hall, the girls of Maples have planned to hold a Hallowe'en party this Saturday evening in the Field Cage. While the affair is to be in harmony with this festive season a limited number of tickets will be sold to girls only, who will thereupon choose their desired companions of the evening. The affair is to be in costume and everyone who may attend is requested to come masqued and prepared for a jolly good time of fun and dancing.

Y-HANDBOOK APPEARS ON CAMPUS ON FRIDAY

Although appearing on the campus at an unusually late date the Y handbooks are none the less attractive. This edition, dedicated to Prof. Franklin I. Sheeder, is quite comprehensive in its treatment of campus activities and in its explanation of Freshman rules. The compilation of this pocket volume evidences careful planning by the Staff, of which Lloyd R. Enoch, '27, was the Editor-in-Chief and Charles W. Fitzkee, '28, Business Manager. The purpose of this book is to provide the new students with a handy means of finding out what the campus organizations are and what their purposes are, as well as to set forth varied information relative to Ursinus College. Its tardy arrival diminishes in no way its usefulness; on the contrary it is hoped it will be more highly appreciated since it presents compactly information which the new students can better value now after their brief stay here.

SCHAFF PLAY ANNOUNCED

Schaff Literary Society has selected "The Rivals" by Sheridan as its play for this year. Tryouts for the various parts are being held today. Prof. and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder will again coach the production.

of instruction.

The Government Building showing industries, manufactures and products of our country, proved that during the short history of our nation it has produced more than its share to the world. The foreign buildings and the exhibits contained therein are marvellous. One is awestricken by the gorgeous display of most exquisite tapestries, rugs, jewelry and novelties. A native atmosphere surrounds most of these buildings and one is almost made to believe that he is traveling in a distant land. Numerous states and cities have their buildings on the grounds. The stadium represents the most modern type of its construction. The Navy Yard, open to visitors, permits inspection of destroyers, submarines and cruisers. The Palace of Liberal Arts, although not completely arranged, is most interesting.

One day is much too short in which to fully realize the true worth of the exposition, but too much credit cannot be given the committee in charge for the day that was arranged. It included Dr. Geo. L. Omwake, A. E. Bortz, H. D. Rushong, Howard Keyser, Dr. Elizabeth White, Prof. F. I. Sheeder, Stanley Moyer, Bernice Leo, from Collegeville; from Trappe, Harry Mathieu, J. Harold Brownback; from Oaks, John Francis and Frank Weaver.

Faculty Members Present

Prof. Sheeder, when introduced, mentioned how happy he was to be present. Furthermore, he commented upon the good qualities of the class. His remarks were pervaded with humor and by the time he had finished, the whole room was in an uproar.

Prof. Boswell continued Prof. Sheeder's witty remarks and during his speech made everybody forget that one hour of pleasure had been lost.

When dinner was over the tables were whisked away and the ballroom became filled with couples gliding lightly over the floor to the strains of "Mighty Lak a Rose," "I'm Lonesome and Sorry," and other popular airs. Dancing lasted till 12:30 when to everyone's sorrow the affair quietly broke up.

Annual Conference of Ursinus Debate League

vals and the final round after an interval of four weeks.

The place of the debate and the side of the question taken are decided by tossing a coin. The school winning the toss may select either place and either side. The host team pays the expenses of visiting teams, and makes all other arrangements for the debate. The dues for membership in the League are three dollars per school.

Three judges are selected for each debate unless the opposing teams agree otherwise. The guest school submits a list of six names of men willing to serve as judges, and from this list the host school selects its judges. If the names are unsatisfactory or the persons cannot serve, a new list is submitted. Judges are instructed to consider matter, form, and delivery on an equal basis. Votes are cast by ballot without any consultation, and the ballots are opened by the presiding officer in the presence of both captains.

Last year four classes of schools were authorized: first class, those with dual teams; second class, single team schools; third class, the second class school defeated in the first round, which continue to debate among themselves. The winner of each class is given a banner by Ursinus College. The fourth class is composed of schools that enter no banner contests, but prefer to make their own arrangements.
